Culture Tips

Tell Me About Unusual Foods in Your Country

Dear Harry,
There are many unusual foods in China. I will tell you about two of them.

In Southwest China, in Tibet and Yunnan, people keep yaks. Yaks can live in cold mountains because they are hairy animals. The people drink yak milk.

In North China, people have hot pot in cold weather. They cook mutton in a hot pot. The hot pot makes the body warm.

Hi, Li Xiao!
How interesting! Now I will tell you about unusual foods in Western restaurants.

In Scotland, north of England, people have a special food called "haggis". Haggis is very famous, but not many people like to eat it. It's made from all parts of the body of a sheep. They cut up the meat and cook it in a sheep's stomach.

The Dog, the Rooster and the Fox

A dog and a rooster were good friends. They went on a trip together.

They walked all day and stopped in the woods in the evening. The rooster slept on a branch of a tree, and the dog slept in the hollow tree trunk.

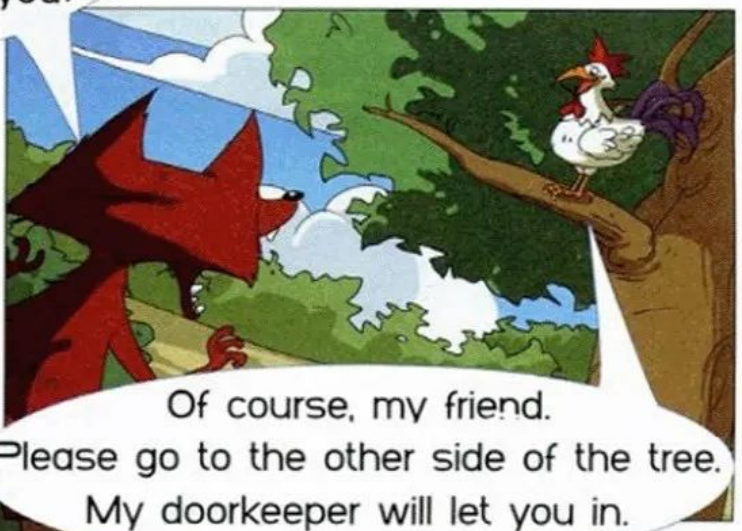

What do you think of this story?

微信公众号：电子课本大全

Good morning, my dear friend!
You're very good at singing.
May I come in and thank you?

The next morning, the rooster crowed loudly. A fox heard the rooster and said, "I hear breakfast!" The fox ran to the tree and spoke to the rooster.

Of course, my friend.
Please go to the other side of the tree.
My doorkeeper will let you in.

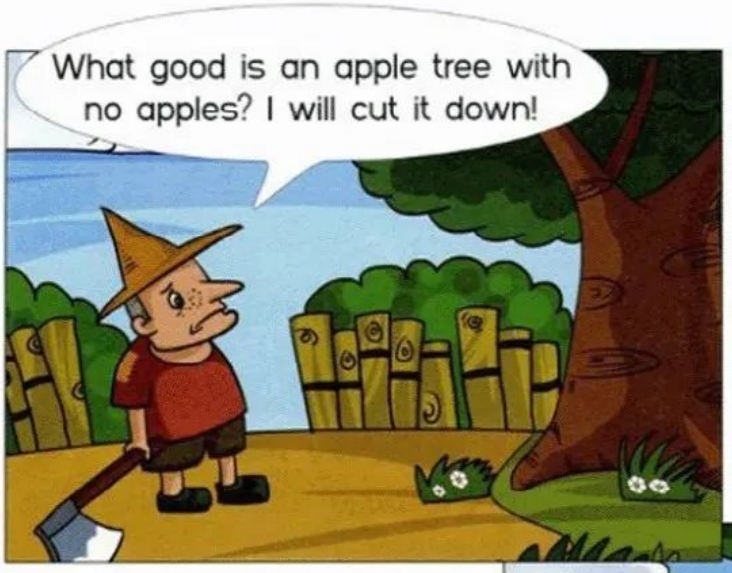

When the fox approached the other side of the tree, the dog promptly jumped up and caught him.
